DEFINING SUCCESS

Every individual had his or her own way of defining success. There can be so many possibilities when it comes what exactly a successful person would be like or how they would feel like about the success they have achieved. It can be seen as a highly controversial aspect as to what exactly defines the very idea of being successful. Some may believe it is the fulfilment of a wish while other may argue that it is more of accomplishing goals with individual dedication and hard work. On the other hand, there are many who associate success only with materialistic gains.

It could also be said that success on the whole is a subjective idea because the way one sees it may be entirely different from another's perception. The true definition of success can be discovered only when we know what we want for ourselves. It is important to be focused towards long term goals but it is equally important to be happy about little achievements that come our way. We need to define success for ourselves to decipher the real meaning of the term. Success can be hidden in the progress itself rather than the ultimate results. It all depends on what really makes an individual happy and satisfied.
