STUDY ABROAD!

THE WORLD IS CALLING WHERE ARE YOU?

EVERYONE WANTS TO LIVE ON TOP
OF THE MOUNTAIN, BUT ALL THE
HAPPINESS AND GROWTH OCCURS
WHILE YOU'RE CLIMBING IT

From the Desk of the Directors

“We realize how matters of studying overseas can be. With an ocean of options available, students and parents often are clueless about the right courses, recognized colleges, the expenditure involved and the future viability of the qualification. As a duty to our students and clients our job is to clear the air and break it down for them:

Why Study Abroad?

What to Study?

Which college to pick?

How much is it going to cost? ”

- Vivek

“Focusing on your job and worrying about how to get to the next level is agonizing. We all think of adding value to our skill set by furthering our professional qualification. But in most cases due to lack of time and good guidance, one doesn't really put anything in action. However the thought constantly lingers in back of your mind. Well here is where we step in, as your agents we learn of your area of expertise and match it with the right course. We talk of Subjects that are of your interests and assist you with your enrolment.”

- Aanchal

Why Study Abroad?

Studying abroad is an amazing experience. It is unique from the personal as well as academic point of view. Being for a few months in an international environment is the best opportunity to establish intercultural contacts, have a valuable insight into a different culture, learn a language and grow as a person.

In today's world, there is a growing demand for well-rounded and globally oriented engineers, computer scientists, architects, teachers, managers and other technological professionals. Mōrena helps students to choose the right opportunity to develop these qualities through recommending the right country, college and course to Study Abroad. Students who study abroad acquire a better understanding of an increasingly international environment with technological work through foreign study. In conjunction with their professional studies, students also develop cross-cultural communication skills and increase their fluency in a second language by studying and living in another country. These advanced technological and communication skills enable a graduating student to compete and excel in a multinational or multicultural business environment.

There are four main traits of those who passed some time at the university abroad: they are culturally competent, many speak foreign languages and possess good communication skills, they are mobile and, finally, they developed their personality.
